Premium Wealth Forecast

Star Code for SEPTEMBER, 2020

– Audio Transcript and Daily Astro-Numerology Guide –

Welcome to the Premium Wealth Forecast for September, 2020.

This is going to be a transformational month since the number 13 will be activated in September. Two lunations – the Pisces Full Moon on September 2 and the Virgo New moon on September 17 add intense and highly positive energy into the mix.

We have a powerful Universal month number of 13 for September. Add 9 plus  $2+0+2+0$  and you arrive at 13.

This is a pivotal number in terms of us just letting go of Fear.

As I've said previously, you are likely familiar with the fact that 13 was pretty much either abolished from most cultures or reframed to a very negative influence, which is a way of suppressing the divine feminine - it was an actual very consciously created way for us to move away from our intuition and everything the divine feminine represents.

13 is a number of life-death-transformation because it governs the changes of nature - the 13 weeks in a season and the 13 lunations in a year. So 13 is connected to the cycles on Earth, the natural cycles of change.

So when this number appears, we can expect not only the unexpected, but also the sudden changes that really require us to tune into our third eye, our intuition, our sensory perception -and the reason for that is, the most powerful way to empower yourself is through your intuition, because then you're not beholden on external support, but actually have all the wisdom contained within you that is directly sourced from the universe.

The number 13 is really part of that whole process where the number 1 is the direct line to Source. The number 3 is creativity, the triangle of the mother, father, child creation.

13 reduces to 4, which is grounding that energy, making it real, manifesting it, laying down roots.

So this is a number that we need to reacquaint ourselves with, because unconsciously it has been very much denigrated and we need to now create this new rebirth of the number 13.

September will be a major time for us to use the qualities of 13 to allow it to be welcomed and assimilated in everybody's hearts again.

When we look at this number we need to know that it attracts the unexpected. You may meet new people or suddenly realize something, a new idea, a new condition, a new situation that propels you to look up to take notice.

Thus, your intuition will guide you through the surprises, to inspire you from within so you can trust in your decisions and KNOW that they are based on this synchronistic alignment of what is for your highest good.

You can experience a lot of joy in this cycle because when we let go of those beliefs and old paradigms, we make room for wonderful abundance to appear.

Since change is a natural part of life, the number 13 guarantees that we stop stagnating and stop being stuck and instead start reinvigorating and moving forward again with a great sense of trust, because we are connected to the most amazing energy there is, which is SOURCE.

So September is very much about releasing the past so that you can renew and refresh and be reborn.

The immense growth that happens under 13 cycles is very empowering.

This month is about replacing the old with the new by manifesting your own inspirations into physical reality, which is symbolized by the root number 4.

So it's a very big month in so many ways as we earnestly and consciously begin to balance the Divine Feminine with the Sacred Masculine - because, as you'll discover later in this forecast - MARS, symbol of the Sacred Masculine is stationing retrograde in Aries, its own home sign this month.

Now let's look to the stars to see how the energy unfold when it comes to the two lunations.

The first lunation is a Full Moon in Pisces that happens on September 2nd, 2020 at 6:22 AM universal time. So a lot of 2's in that code - there are actually five 2's in the Pisces Full Moon star code.

2 is the number of balance and harmony and Pisces is also about harmony, true unconditional love and using your imagination to create this unification of all your resources.

So it's a lovely numerology and astrology theme that really begins the last third of our year, since September starts our final four months.

We have another number that's very activated and that is the number 10. The Sun and Moon will be opposite each other - the moon in Pisces, the sun in Virgo at 10 degrees. And they will be forming an exact trine from the sun and sextile from the moon to Uranus at 10 degrees in Taurus.

So we have a triple 10:10:10 code as well.

As you know, 10 is the instant manifestation number. It is made up of 1 and 0, which is the code of the universe and the computer code. 1 symbolizes straight lines and zero symbolizes the circle - and those two make up sacred geometry.

10 is the number of love and light.

It is also called the God number and the Wheel of Fortune number because it just manifests so rapidly.

Now we're in a time where we are manifesting rapidly to begin with because of the change in play right now.

So when the number 10 shows up like this, we know that the last third of the year is going to be about a lot of quick decision making! And understanding that your attention, what you think about is rapidly going to unfold in your life. And you will see that happening.

So you will understand how to utilize the energy in a responsible way, in a positive way, as opposed to ignoring the fact that you actually create everything in your reality.

That will become crystal clear as we move forward. So that's the initial numerology code.

We also have one more number I'll go into in a moment, but this trine and sextile to Uranus is important because Uranus, of course, stands for change and freedom.

And Uranus rules, Aquarius, which is the age we are going into now.

Whereas Pisces governs what is hidden, what is unseen, your psychic abilities, the unconscious, psychology prisons, hospitals - Uranus is about the ability to use your intuition, your adventurous spirit in order to break free from old paradigms and embrace liberation and the future.

So in combination, since Pisces reveals what is unseen, thereby you seeing truth, tuning to the truth through unconditional love - and Uranus, forming this trine and sextile to this Pisces full moon is about freedom, we can see that, "The truth shall set you free" is going to be a very big theme.

So we've come to the point here now where all these timelines - between the Mayan calendar starting again after 26,000 years - that just under eight years ago - and Aquarian age and the start of the millenium of the 2000's... it's All coming together now in a very powerful theme as we move into the age of Liberation, Adventure, Breakthroughs and ultimately total Freedom.

And by the end of the year - by December, when Saturn and Jupiter form their 0 degree conjunction in Aquarius, it will really be felt. This is the birth in 2020 of that new 2000-year Aquarian age.

Again, the number 2 appears everywhere, not only in this Pisces full moon, but in what I was just sharing.

2 is about bringing everything into balance - the masculine and feminine being the prime energies that we are rebalancing now.

So your intuitive senses are on high alert.

And to help you to take action and also to take some time out is an opposition during this full moon.

That's Venus opposite Saturn. They're both at 25 degrees.

Since 25 reduces to 7 and the number 7 is about taking time for yourself, and Venus opposite Saturn is also on that same theme, you want to make sure you spend that quiet time around this full moon especially, so that you can tune in to your intuition, to Source and take responsibility by relaxing into your divine listening experience.

Also with Venus opposite Saturn, you don't want to worry about any situation or endeavor that may be moving more slowly than you anticipated.

The point is that you are letting go. You want to pay off debts if you have them. You want to organize your finances with Venus. You want to use this wonderful transit for growth and self awareness, and taking that time alone to discover your inner beauty, inner harmony is going to help you feel that inner peace.

We also have a T square from Venus opposite Saturn to Mars. So they're both forming a 90 degree angle to Mars creating that T square.

T-squares are the most activating sacred geometric connection that we have in astrology. T-square create tension. And that tension is important for inspiring action.

In this case, Mars is about to go retrograde in a week after this full moon on the 9th of the 9th. And so you will feel, especially with Mars square Saturn, that your energy will be more internalized, meaning you want to take more naps, rest more, focus on creative urges that Mars brings to the table.

Focus on pending responsibilities, not new responsibilities. It's not the best time to start anything new around this time, but it's important to express yourself with a lot of patience and understanding that you need to take things one step at a time and not rush into things.

Mars likes just go very fast into every situation. It's about fire and the libido.

And Saturn is about slowing down and being patient and responsible.

So when there's a square between these two, it can result sometimes in frustration. If you feel pushed to take a risk and feel like you don't have the energetic resources to do so, you want to take time outs, breathe deeply, rest to get calm and centered - before proceeding.

It is a very good time though for preparation, as I said, on something that you've already started and also preparing for the future, whatever that means - any preparation to help to strengthen your inner resolve and create security.

So that's the Full Moon in Pisces.

Then we have the second lunation happening on September 17th, and that is the New Moon in Virgo.

17 is such an incredible number because it is about the immortality. To have this wonderful situation on the 17th in a 13 Universal Month, these are very powerful numbers that are coinciding here. It's very exciting.

As it happens, Mercury will be at 17 degrees in Libra on the 17th of September! This will allow us to balance our communication. Libra is about balance to begin with.

So this is so wonderful.

The way we share things with each other in written or spoken form is going to feel much more balanced around this time. And the balance empowers and encourages you to keep going and trust in the messages that are flowing through you.

Now the Sun and Moon will be at 25 degrees in Virgo, and they will be forming an exact trine to Saturn at 25 degrees. This is lovely energy.

Saturn is still in a conjunction with Pluto. They are both in Capricorn. They're both retrograding. They're about 3 degrees apart at this point. So this is a double trine to both Pluto and Saturn and an exact trine to Saturn.

This means you're going to experience some lovely results for prior work, prior dedication. And you can take this time around the New Moon in Virgo to focus on achievement and the implementation of those things that you started earlier. Also, taking on responsibilities, including new responsibilities feels effortless.

It's a great time to understand that you can clear things out, like clearing out closets or clearing your desk - clearing your life.

Listen, read inspirational, uplifting, inspiring books and watch videos, do things that are uplifting - be pro-active.

You're going to feel very, very inspired. Serene patient, able to focus on details.

Whatever you choose to focus on around this time will leave a long-lasting impact. So this is a really lovely new moon for so many reasons.

And Virgo of course, is connected to meticulous attention and healing. So there's expansive opportunities for healing around this time - healing for you to consciously manifest - and this healing will have a lasting impact on you.

This would include practical health matters, like starting or restarting a new regimen for exercise and eating healthily - focusing on daily roadmaps for healing and health are greatly very favored.

It's a New Moon after all, which is encouraging you to start fresh!

Finally let's look at the sun and moon trine to Pluto. This assists you to purge energy. The purging itself is so cleansing that you feel empowered to stand up and share in a leadership position. So your confidence and self assertion is very much transformed. It's very positive energy.

So there are a lot of positive shifts in both the Full Moon in Pisces that has that gorgeous triangle with Uranus. And the New Moon in Virgo that has that gorgeous trine to Pluto and Saturn.

Those are really the overriding themes for these two lunations.

So the energy will help whatever changes are taking place in this 13 universal month to be a lot more mellifluous and easy because you have this exciting star code energy supporting you and enhancing your inner confidence and that results fearlessness.

Most definitely Pluto helps you to take accountability for every part of your life as does Saturn. And you are discovering how good that actually feels!

The determination that you put into things is resulting in something really lovely, wonderful, and great.

Pluto is also about mysterious topics. Pluto uncovers the unseen. So it is also connected to the realms that are mysterious, the unconscious realms and esoteric realms. This means you can work on, discover and TRUST your abilities in those intuitive realms during this time.

You'll feel very much connected to positivity, trusting your inner sanctuary and honing your amazing intuitive abilities.

Pluto is a P word, so it's connected directly to Power.

You want to surrender and allow that divine intelligence to inspire your life and be very confident about it.

Take your courage and allow it to really speak. Inspired communication, inspired words that source from within you - without any allegiance to any platform or agenda - this is truly the inspired way of life that is being born within you.

Mercury is at 17 degrees on the 17th of September, and Mercury is about speaking and sharing.

Pluto is about unveiling what was hidden - seeing the Truth and being empowered as a result.

17 is very powerful - being the number of immortality, leadership and courage, overcoming obstacles, gaining strength, leaving a legacy behind.

So this is a really exciting time in September. Understand that nobody can tell you what to do. You are in charge of your life, and you fully trust your intuition and move forward with a lot of confidence.
